Florida's Favorite Acoustic Children's Duo

Robin And The Giant have been performing together since 1987. As one of the first children's and family artists to be featured on the very young Digital Cable Radio network in the early 1990s, Robin And The Giant found a national audience for their original songs and stories on the network's only full hour program that featured both spoken dialogue and music.

As of this writing, Robin And The Giant have 123 songs available on I-Tunes and seven full length CDs. Nearly all of the songs are originals by Robin And The Giant and some have become classics (such as "In The Caribbean", "Stay In School", and "Bitten By The Birds And Bees.")

Currently, Robin And The Giant have their CDs for sale on CD Baby, and digital downloads of their music are available on I-Tunes, Rhapsody, Napster, Wal-Mart, Amazon, and several other digital music retailers.

Robin And The Giant offer their live music in a variety of performance options. The photo at the top of the page shows Robin And The Giant "Live In Concert." This is the perfect performance choice for large groups looking to have a musical show in a theatrical setting.

The photo to the right was taken at the Appleton Museum of Art in Ocala, Florida and illustrates Robin And The Giant as "strolling musicians" (that's The Giant on the left, by the way.)

For the more intimate performance, Robin And The Giant offer a coffeehouse type show, called the "Milk And Cookie Café," for children. You provide the milk and cookies (or coffee and pastries) and Robin And The Giant provide the music and the entertainment.

Another favorite performance option is the "Campfire Sing-along" show. Robin And The Giant perform this option COMPLETELY unplugged with no amplification.

All Robin And The Giant shows are done completely live with no pre-recorded "backing" tracks. The instruments include acoustic guitar, mandolin, and other low-tech instruments such as the tambourine, the kazoo, and the bongo. Robin also operates "Hip" the hairy monkey puppet!
